

CIHR Grant Applications: Recognize VCHRI

With the latest CIHR grant deadline on the horizon, we ask that you please show VCHRI as your “Primary location” on your grant application -- in addition to indicating UBC as your “Institution.”

Your role as a VCHRI investigator makes an important contribution to the strength of the Institute and research at Vancouver Coastal Health. By raising the awareness of the world-class research that takes place at VCHRI, we can better create understanding of the role of research in the continuum of care, as well as the economic and social significance of knowledge creation and transfer.

How to complete the CIHR on-line application to reflect your VCHRI connection

1. In the “Project” screen, you will see a place to indicate “Primary location where research will be conducted”.
2. Click on the menu icon and you will be able to select Vancouver Coastal Health Research Institute from the list.
3. If you are a member of one of the Institute’s major centres, you can indicate that as well. The names of our centres are not in the drop down list, so you will have to write your centre into the space provided.
