

Manuscript Writing in the STEM Disciplines

Please join us for an interactive workshop designed to introduce researchers to the typical organizational structure of a research article in the STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) disciplines.

REGISTER TODAY

www.vchri.ca/manuscript-writing

Date March 30, 2020
Time 12:30pm - 4:00pm
[lunch will be provided]

Where Paetzold Multi-Purpose Room
899 West 12th Avenue, Vancouver

This workshop includes dedicated time for participants to revise a section of a research article, while accounting for variation in disciplinary differences. It is most useful for those with a research article underway.

In this workshop you will learn:

how to organize the structure of a research article in the STEM disciplines

how to organize the Introduction of the research article

how and where to make appropriate claims, according to established disciplinary practices

For more information, contact Amanda Chisholm amanda.chisholm@vch.ca